TRAVEL TIPS

WHEN TO GO

The summer months between June and August are when Greece comes alive. Athens can tip the thermometer over the 30-degree mark, making the Mediterranean, Aegean and Ionian seas look so appealing. Follow the crowd and head to the coastal islands where the sultry daytime air is offset by cool, nightly sea breezes. A word of warning though – if you’re looking for a quiet holiday away from the crowds, this isn’t the season for you!

April to May and September to November are the most comfortable times to travel. Days are warm and less humid, nights are cool and there are fewer tourists. Sightseeing, especially walking through archaeological sites, is not too taxing during these months and you can capture the moment without capturing too many strangers in your photos!

Winter is generally very quiet with many hotels and attractions closing between December and February. Snow falls, although rare, are not unheard of in Athens.

THE GREEK ISLANDS IN WINTER

From October to April most of the Greek islands close down for tourism with the exception of Crete and Rhodes. The hotels and taverns in the main centres of Crete and Rhodes remain open while many of the resort hotels will close.

LANGUAGE

Greek is the official language of Greece. English is generally spoken in major cities and tourist areas.

VISAS & PASSPORTS

All travellers to Greece must carry a passport valid for at least six months beyond the date of departure from Australia. As visa information can change at any time, we recommend you seek advice regarding passports, visas and other travel requirements for the countries you intend visiting from the Australian Government at smartrtraveller.gov.au.

TIME

Greece is eight hours behind Australian Eastern Standard Time (AEST). Daylight Saving Time is observed from March to October when the clocks are turned forward by 1 hour.

CITY TAX

A city tax applies in Greece. This amount is per room per night payable direct to your accommodation.

TIPPING & BARGAINING

Bargaining is acceptable and almost expected in markets in Greece. Tipping a few dollars per day for tour guides is expected. A 5-10% tip in restaurants is sufficient but check if the tip has already been included on your bill.

ELECTRICITY

230V 50Hz.

An international adapter is recommended.

EXPERIENCES YOU'LL LOVE

The best part of any journey is the experiences you have along the way, leaving you with memories to relive long after the holiday is over.

Greece has countless amazing things to see and do. Here are some of our favourites to inspire your wanderlust.

Athens

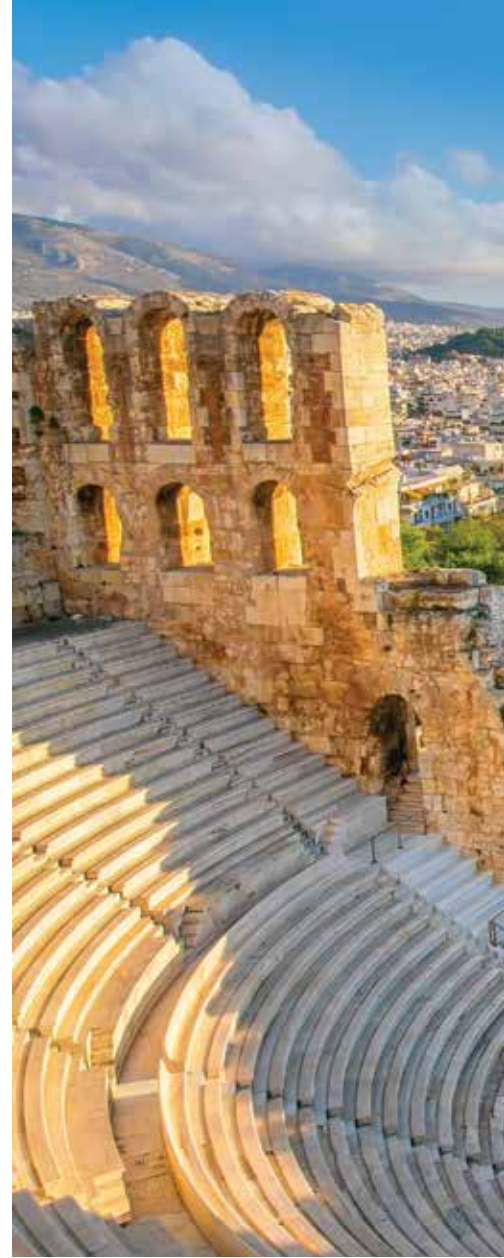

Temple of Poseidon, Sounion

ATHENS

This vibrant capital is the heart of Greece, combining the old and new. Archaeological sites scattered throughout the city sit alongside brand new cultural centres and buildings. The ancient citadel, the Acropolis is positioned high above Athens and can be seen from every corner of the city. Visit the historic Panathenaic Stadium where the first modern Olympic Games were held. Wander the labyrinth of old streets of Plaka, visit treasure filled museums and soak up the atmosphere in a street café.

ANCIENT RUINS

Greece offers a host of ancient ruins and archaeological sites. Athens is home to the famous Parthenon, Temple of Zeus and Acropolis and it's almost impossible to walk through the city without discovering yet another archaeological site. The ancient Temple of Apollo at Delphi, the ruins at Olympia and the Temple of Poseidon on Cape Sounion are some of Greece's most widely recognised historical attractions. Many sites can also be found on the Greek islands of Delos, Crete and Mykonos.

Chania, Crete

ISLAND HOPPING IN GREECE

Greece's fabulous islands all offer a unique experience, from rest and relaxation to all night partying and many feature historical and archaeological sites. Accessing these islands is a breeze, with ferry services connecting many of the islands within their main group. Island groups include the Cyclades, Ionian and Dodecanese Islands, among others. Since almost all ferries conveniently depart from Piraeus, just outside of Athens, island hopping is a must for any Greek holiday itinerary.

Santorini

Built in 161AD, the Odeon of Herodes Atticus is now one of the best places to experience a live classical theatre performance

HEAVENLY BEACHES

It's practically unheard of to visit Greece without including some serious beach time. The Aegean, Ionian and Mediterranean Seas provide the ideal flop and drop destinations with postcard scenery and warm, blue water. With its white cliffs and iconic shipwreck, Navagio Beach on Zakynthos is a popular place to bask in the sun. Balos Beach in Crete beckons with its brilliant white sandy beach and turquoise water.

Navagio Beach, Zakynthos

WINE & DINE

You'll be in foodie heaven in Greece. Greece offers a plethora of seafood, regional specialities and decadent sweets. Whether fine dining or sampling street food, one thing is for certain – wherever you go, the food will be plentiful, fresh and tasty. Greece is well known for its diet rich in seafood, olives and vegetables. While chowing down, don't forget to drink like a local, sampling Greece's own brands of beer, wine and spirits.

UNESCO SITES

There is no shortage of UNESCO World Heritage Listed Sites in Greece which is home to 18 sites including the instantly recognisable Acropolis in Athens, the unspoiled Medieval City of Rhodes and the stunning natural landscapes of Meteora. The Old Town of Corfu includes three forts dating back to the 8th century BC and Thessaloniki's Paleo Christian and Byzantine Monuments are a fine example of early religious art.

The Cyclades

ISLAND HOPPING

The Greek Islands are perfection. The sun-kissed outcrops of dramatic rocks, glimmering sea, white-washed houses and golden beaches, together with great nightlife and lazy days, make the Greek Islands irresistible. Our Greek Island Hopping packages have been designed so you can experience the beauty of the many island groups. Combine a visit to Athens with a stay on one or several islands of the Cyclades or discover the many archaeological sites dotted throughout the Dodecanese group. There's no better way to discover the islands than on a Greek Island Hopping package.

TAILOR MADE ISLAND HOPPING

If you want to explore the Greek Islands at your own pace, we can create a unique tailor-made island hopping itinerary. Whether it is to include the iconic must-see islands, cultural experiences, or the discovery of hidden gems, we can make your dream Greek Island holiday a reality.

GETTING THERE

The most popular way to travel between the Greek Islands is by local ferry. Take in the spectacular scenery and crystal clear water, as you transfer from Athens to some of most idyllic island holiday destinations. Ferries depart from Piraeus, Athens and between many of the islands.

Domestic flights are also a popular and faster way to access the Greek Islands. Direct flights operate between the islands and from Athens.

The three different ferry types: Seajets provide the best option for island hopping with their fleet of high-speed hydrofoils and sleek, high-speed ferries providing the fastest and most direct way to travel between islands.

An alternative option is to use fast ferries which offer a choice between economy and business-class travel. Schedules are subject to change and additional stops may be added without prior notice.

Slower ferry services are available, but the standard of service is much less than Seajets or the fast ferries.

Oia, Santorini

Ios

THE CYCLADES

Located in the heart of the Aegean Sea, this group of islands is famous for white-washed buildings complemented with blue or yellow painted windows, with sprays of bougainvillea adding splashes of pink and purple. Narrow cobblestone streets wind through the tiny villages, while the main port towns are lined with traditional fishing boats and tavernas.

Santorini is perhaps the most popular in the Cyclades group of islands. A volcanic island with villages built on the edge of a submerged caldera, it offers the most romantic sunsets in the world. Mykonos is equally beautiful – picture white-washed houses with blue shutters, gorgeous churches with round blue roofs, windmills, donkeys walking up mountain trails, not to mention dazzling blue sea and sandy beaches. Paros offers unrivalled natural beauty, spectacular beaches and breathtaking landscapes while Naxos is an island of beautiful old monasteries and Venetian castles. Relax on a beautiful sandy beach during the day and head into the town centre in the evening to enjoy the lively nightlife on the island of Ios.
